

Wait for Snail

“Worm, wait up!” said Snail. Snail huffs and puffs behind Worm. He cannot keep up. “I want to play with you today,” said Snail.

Wait for Snail

“Put some wind in your sail, Snail!” yells Worm. Worm chugs through the garden lawn like a bullet train.

Wait for Snail

“Race you to the vegetable patch,” said Worm. “Wait for me,” pants Snail.

Wait for Snail

Worm wins the race. He does not wait for Snail. Worm aims for the juicy, green lettuces.

Wait for Snail

“Stay away from the lettuce leaves. I heard from the birds that Mr Brown sprays them and puts out bait to catch worms like you,” yells Snail.

Wait for Snail

“What did you say? The lettuces look amazing today!” said Worm. “I heard from the birds that Mr Brown sprays them and puts out bait to catch worms like you,” yells Snail again.

Wait for Snail

“I say, that was a lucky escape. Next time, I shall wait for you Snail,” grins Worm.
