

The Nest

By Anna Kirschberg

Illustrated by James Keiaho

Book Summary

This title looks at a simple fantasy themed story about Pip and Sid at a medieval campsite in a storm. They discover a nest has blown out of a tree in the storm. What will they do to help the lost chick? The text will introduce the reader to new consonant blends. Detailed and vibrant illustrations depict and help the text explain some basic story information about each page.

This book follows the Beanstalk Books (Letters & Sounds) Phase 4 progression and focuses on teaching blending and segmentation of adjacent consonant blends.

Reading the Text

Pages 2 and 3 – Explain where to begin reading, and ask the student to point to each word as you read aloud together. The main characters in this story are at a campsite. Discuss the setting and scene shown in the pictures. What is happening with the weather?

Pages 4 and 5 – In the illustrations on these pages, we can see that Pip and Sid hear a cheeping sound and they go to discover a nest that has blown out of a tree.

Pages 6 and 7 – Here, Pip and Sid see a chick in a nest. They decide to put the nest back up in an oak tree.

Page 8 – The final page ends with the characters saving the nest with the chick.

Children can now read the book independently. At the end of the story, go over the text and illustrations again and discuss what is happening on each page.

Revisiting the Text

As a group, refer back to the table in the front inner cover and identify the words in the story that use some of the new consonant blends being taught in Phase 4. Identify as many new blends as you can in words in the text. For example, 'st' in 'lost', and 'gust'.

Revisit the common exception words in the text.

How many times can you find the word 'you'?

Notice the use of any different types of punctuation.

Discuss these.
