

Elephant Play

Today, Ted and Mat are on a big trek in the rainforest. So far, they have seen birds, frogs, lizards and lots of insects.

Elephant Play

“Do you think we will see an elephant today? When and where might we see an elephant?” asks Mat. “Ssshhh,” whispers Ted.

Elephant Play

Ted points to a shadow in the trees. “Something big is over there,” whispers Ted.

Elephant Play

Mat creeps up to the trees. Ted reads his travel book. “It is an elephant! Look at his big ears and long trunk!” whispers Mat.

Elephant Play

“The book says that elephants like to eat grass, tree bark and roots. They eat crops like bananas too. Look! He has big toenails,” said Ted.

Elephant Play

The boys look at the elephant in delight. The elephant’s tusks gleam bright. The elephant trunk twists and turns as it plays with its food.

Elephant Play

The elephant’s trunk picks up a banana and flips it high in the air. “This elephant is sweet. He wants to play!” said Mat.

Elephant Play

Elephant Play

Elephant Play

