

Traditionally Letters & Sounds covers Phase 6 in the third year of school, however with the importance of being introduced to suffixes as preparation it is included in this planner. This component focuses on 5 common suffixes and the common prefix un-, and teaches these over six weeks.

Spelling conventions for adding common suffixes to words are included in daily teaching planning and supplementary resources. Most children will have taken words with suffixes in their stride in reading, especially the -s suffix used for plurals which are included in decodable readers from Phase 2. However, for spelling purposes they now need more systematic teaching both of the suffixes themselves and of how the spelling of base words may have to change slightly when suffixes are added.

Decodable readers at this early part of Phase 6 also focus on a target suffix. These target suffixes are embedded into decodable text so that children can practise decoding multi-syllable words containing suffixes and see the various spelling conventions applied within real text.
